Job Ad
San Francisco State University
Assistant Professor of Public Affairs and Civic Engagement
Environmental Policy and Politics

San Francisco State University, School of Public Affairs and Civic Engagement (PACE) invites applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Environmental Policy and Politics beginning August 2016.

The School seeks individuals with a background in Environmental Studies with a specialization in Environmental Policy and Politics.

PACE is an interdisciplinary school of public affairs oriented scholars formed in 2012 that offers degree programs in criminal justice studies, environmental studies, public administration, and urban studies and planning. Candidates would primarily be responsible for expanding the School’s curricular offerings in environmental studies, but candidates who can also contribute more broadly to the School’s mission are strongly desired.

Qualifications:
Applicants from a wide range of specializations related to Environmental Policy and Politics will be considered; Ph.D. in a related discipline or J.D. from an accredited program required.

Candidates should have a strong background in environmental policy and politics, particularly issues of environmental justice, from an interdisciplinary perspective.

Candidates must demonstrate the ability to teach courses in the areas of their specialization, as well as Introduction to Environmental Studies, Environmental Law and Policy, and Research Methods for Environmental Studies. Candidates may also teach courses in the Environmental Administration elective emphasis in the Master of Public Administration program.

Excellence in teaching and scholarship must be demonstrated, and candidates are preferred who have teaching and/or research experience with a large, diverse student body.

Candidates who embrace the mission and values of the School are particularly encouraged to apply. Building on an ethos of social justice and sustainability, PACE faculty prepare graduates with critical and analytical skills necessary to understand and address the issues and challenges of the twenty-first century. Social justice also comprises a core value of the university, and the setting of San Francisco provides ample opportunities for civic and community engagement within a richly diverse urban setting. Candidates who can help expand the School’s offerings in environmental politics and policy, while also demonstrating a commitment to School and University core mission and values are desired.

Responsibilities: The position requires undergraduate teaching in Environmental Studies, mentoring and advising undergraduate students, developing an active ongoing scholarship program in one’s area of specialty, and ongoing committee and service assignments. Detailed position description is available at pace.sfsu.edu.
Rank and salary: Assistant Professor. Salary commensurate with qualifications and experience. The CSU provides generous health, retirement and other benefits.

Application process:
Submit letter of intent/interest, a current CV, a sample of scholarly papers, a statement of teaching philosophy and research interests, and three letters of reference.

Submit all materials online to pace@sfsu.edu by October 15, 2015. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

San Francisco State University is a member of the California State University system and serves a diverse student body of 30,000 undergraduate and graduate students. The University seeks to promote appreciation of scholarship, freedom and, human diversity through excellence in instruction and intellectual accomplishment. SFSU faculty are expected to be effective teachers and demonstrate professional achievement and growth through research, scholarship, and/or creative work.

San Francisco State University is an Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong commitment to diversity. We especially welcome applications from members of all ethnic groups, women, veterans, and people with disabilities.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

---

Short version (for expensive venues):

San Francisco State University, School of Public Affairs and Civic Engagement invites applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Environmental Policy and Politics beginning August 2016. Ph.D. in a related discipline or J.D. from an accredited program required. Salary commensurate with qualifications. Position description available at pace.sfsu.edu. SF State serves a diverse student body with a mission to promote scholarship, diversity, instructional excellence and intellectual accomplishment. Faculty are expected to be effective teachers, demonstrate professional achievement and growth through research, publications and/or creative activities, and engage in service to the campus and community. Application review begins October 15 continues until filled. Submit letter of intent, a current CV, a sample of scholarly papers, a statement of teaching philosophy and research interests, and three letters of reference to pace@sfsu.edu.